Advertising in specialized media works better

Advertising in trade media is "perceived with different eyes. It is taken more seriously, suffers less from the ironic distance of advertising to the general public and the associated avoidance strategies", is one of the findings of the study "Verdammt nah dran" (Damn close), for which the Munich-based institute H,T,P Concept surveyed 60 "decision-makers" on behalf of Deutscher Fachverlag (Frankfurt a. M.). Advertising in specialised media, on the other hand, is subjected to an "active relevance check" and is generally perceived more openly. Specialist media increase the readiness to receive, put the user in a "permanent search mode" and this also benefits advertising.

PLACING OF ORDER

1. The respective relevant version of the advertising rate is applicable (downloadable on www.cbverlag.at). The publishing house, under existing frameworks (placement of several advertisements), is justified to raise the price in case of a change of raw material prices, rising wage costs due to amendments to the law or the collective bargaining agreement or tax increases.
2. Orders will only become effective and binding upon written confirmation by the publishing house.
3. If orders are cancelled before the advertising deadline a cancellation fee of 30% of the value of the advertisement will be charged. Cancellations after the advertising deadline will be cleared with 70% of the advertising rate.
4. The publishing house reserves the right to decline advertisements without giving reasons.
5. For orders involving inserts, bound-in supplements and glued-in inserts an original sample has to be attached to the order
6. Competition exclusion can only be arranged in case of a full page advertisement on the opposing page.

ORDER PROCESSING

1. The principal has sole responsibility for the content of his adverts. On order placement the principal confirms to be in possession of all of the requisite rights concerning the advertisement. Further the principal confirms that the advertisement does not contravene the rules of the UWG, the UrhG or other industrial property rights or statutory provisions. The principal will at all times protect, indemnify and hold harmless the publishing house from and against third-party claims. This also applies to costs for judicially ordered counter statements, preliminary communications and publication of court decisions. In the event of a legal claim, the principal undertakes to assume all costs of any legal representation of the publishing house and to support the publishing house in the judicial proceedings. If the principal does not fulfill this obligation, the principal renounces all objections.
2. The publishing house only guarantees the technically perfect print reproduction of advertisements if perfect advertising copy is provided. In case of a complete or partially illegible, incorrect or incomplete reproduction, that essentially impaires the purpose of the advertisement, a compensation claim by the principal is limited to the price of the respective advertisement (excluding taxes and fees). Apart from that any warranty is excluded.
3. The publishing house does not accept any liability for damages that are caused by non-publication of the advertisement on a specific day or errors concerning print, settlement or placement. In any case the liability of the publishing house shall be restricted to intent and gross negligence.

4. Correction or color proofs shall only be produced at the express request of the customer and at charge. If for any reasons acceptance of the correction proofs is not confirmed within the specified period of TWO days after consignment by the publishing house, such acceptance shall be considered granted.
5. Placement requests will be taken in account as far as possible, however they are not obligatory for the publishing house.
6. For advertisements transmitted by electronic mail the publishing house takes no responsibility. The principal is under obligation to provide the publishing house with a color proof or a PDF (with a copy of the advertisement).
7. Any complaints have to be made within five days after accounting and must be reported in writing. Any complaints made after this time will not be accepted.
8. In the event of interruptions to operations or force majeure the publishing house shall be entitled to full payment for the published advertisements if 30% of the assured print run is fulfilled. For lower percentages, payment shall be due on the basis of the cost per thousand.
9. The publishing house accepts no liability for errors in PR reports.

CALCULATION/PAYMENT

1. Invoices have to be paid immediately after billing. When payment is made within seven days the publishing house grants 2% discount, excluding litho-finishing and production costs. In the event of delay in payment, interest shall be charged from the due date at the rate of 7.5% on top of the base rate. The principal has to bare payment and debt collection costs as well as the costs of any legal representation of the publishing house
2. Costs of printing plates, design and exposure for the creation of the advertisement are charged to the principal.
3. Along with the invoice, the principal shall receive a free sample after publication of the advertisement.
4. After fulfillment of the conditions for discount, the certain rebate can only be granted in form of a credit. The principal shall not have the right to set off any claim from current account operations.
5. In the case of delayed payment, even in case of a single invoice, the publishing house is entitled to refuse fulfillment of all contracts not yet executed. In this case price agreements that depart from the tariff become void and shall be set off on the valid advertisement-rate. Similarly, agreed granted discounts become invalid.
6. Payment shall be made without deduction of bank charges or any other fees. Any banking costs that arise must be paid by the principal.
